

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – JULY 27, 2017 – PHOENIX, AZ - Family Review Center offers their prestigious Gold Award twice a year, to those who have products that are exemplary and meet a need above and beyond what one would expect.

The selection was tough, as so many great products were submitted for consideration. However, I think you will agree when you see the ones we have chosen, that they are the finest products one could find in the various categories they came from. These are simply too awesome to pass up. We find it an honor to lend our name in endorsing products and companies such as these.

Winners of this fine award are chosen by a panel of judges and are then awarded with many benefits, both tangible and marketing opportunities that are amazing. These range from the graphics and license for the award, having the product displayed in the Award Showcase on the website, having shout outs on all of the major Social Media outlets to announce the award, a video announcing their award both on the website and on Youtube, Press releases announcing their inclusion, and stickers mailed to them to be used on their packaging or as they desire, and last but not least they are featured in the Magazine as an award winner. They also have the opportunity to win other marketing add ons, as a bonus for being so amazing and as a thanks for networking with Family Review Center.

2017 first Ceremony has been graced with some amazing companies and products. Rita Brenke, Executive Editor remarked how amazed she was at the top class of clients they have networked with this year and that they are beyond pleased with the awesome products they have been able to share with their many viewers. The year has seen much growth in both clients and consumers and the company is working hard to offer a wider spectrum of services that will keep competitors at bay and keep clients coming back. Rita Brenke shared that it is their goal to offer the most, for the least, while never sacrificing quality. To them it is all about growth and more ways to spread the word about those they recommend to their readers.
